

Grow your consulting skills on export promotion with EBRD's training series for consultants

A dedicated course on Export business diagnostics will take place on 25–27 April 2017.

Need to know whether your clients are ready to export? From analysing the export capabilities of your clients to understanding export marketing, trade finance and how to sell export consulting itself, learn how to identify opportunities, needs and potential bottlenecks to equip your clients to successfully trade abroad.

With this three-day training course, you will enhance your capabilities to deliver advice on export promotion that small businesses are ready to pay for while sharing experiences with other local consultants and developing a professional network. The training will be delivered in English and is organised in partnership with the Albanian Consulting Network (ACN).

Do not miss this opportunity to book your place for the latest course of the EBRD's training series for consultants - fill out the online application form at www.albconsulting.org!

We charge a participation fee of EUR 144, thanks to the generous support of the funding from European Union.
